

The multifunctional application aid for donning and doffing medical compression stockings and tights with an open toe

Thanks to its unique sliding properties, Arion Sim-Slide® makes the application of medical stockings easier, thus reducing daily stress associated with donning and doffing compression garments. A study* shows that, when using Arion application aids, medical compression wearers achieve greater satisfaction with successfully putting on and taking off their compression garments. This contributes to their positive user experience, thus improving therapy compliance and optimizing therapy results.

Before you start:

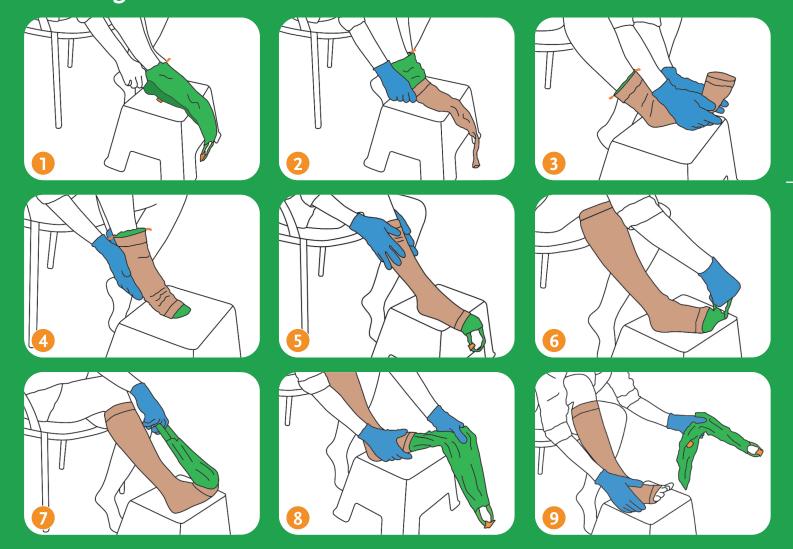

Important! Don't push the foot to the very end of the Arion Sim-Slide®, leave 2 or 3 fingers space in front of the toes.

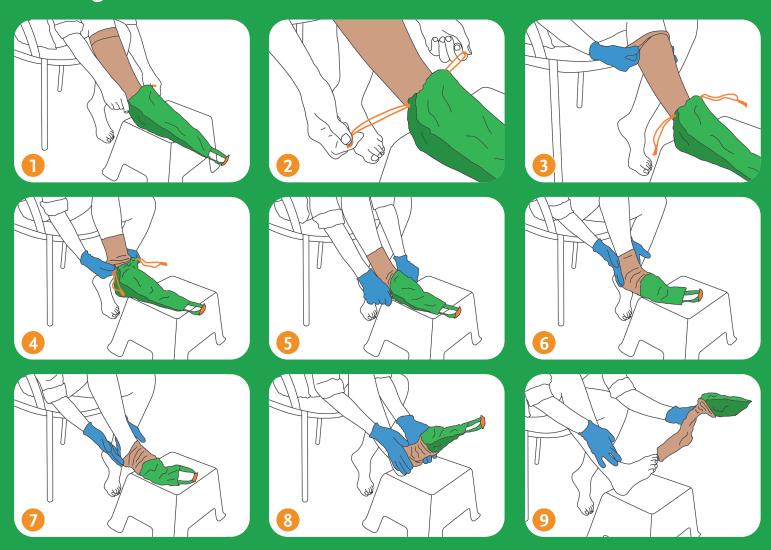

In case the compression garment has a silicon border, make sure to turn it outwards
